

GEOGRAPHICAL INDICATION DATABASES TESTING:

Database	Type	Openness	Responsible organisation
e-Ambrosia	EU	Yes	EC
Glview	International	Yes	EUIPO

CONCLUSION:

We tested two databases.

When comparing eAmbrosia and the more recent database Glview (launched by EUIPO in 2020) there are not many differences, but the most important one is that Glview is open to national authorities and to producer groups to upload extended data, such as the contact data of the GI producer groups, maps, photos of the product, product description, the geographical area, sustainability statements, and other information.

1. eAmbrosia (EU Commission)

eAmbrosia is a legal register of the names of agricultural products and foodstuffs, wine, and spirit drinks that are registered and protected across the EU.

1.1. Search engine functions:

Allows searches by: Country, Country zone, File number of GI, Product type (Wine, Food, Spirit drink), Product categories (several), Name of GI, GI type (PDO, PGI, GI), Application type (Amendment, Cancellation, Registration, Transmission as existing/established GI), Status (Applied, Published, Registered, Rejected, Cancelled).

1.2. Analytics functions:

eAmbrosia offers a range of analytics tools to help users analyse PDO, PGI, and TSG data and trends, also helps to identify trends and opportunities in specific sectors.

1.3. Additional functions:

The advanced search provides a search engine that enables users to search for PDOs, PGIs, and TSGs from different EU countries based on various criteria, such as product name, applicant name, publication date, and more. Users can browse PDOs, PGIs, and TSGs by product category, helping to identify products that are similar or related to each other. The database also provides information on the legal status of PDOs, PGIs, and TSGs, including information on their registration, renewal, and cancellation. Users can download PDO, PGI, and TSG data in various formats, including Excel, CSV, and XML, for further analysis and integration with other tools.

eAmbrosia

the EU geographical indications register

eAmbrosia is a legal register of the names of agricultural products and foodstuffs, wine, and spirit drinks that are registered and protected across the EU. It provides a direct access to information on all registered geographical indications, including the legal instruments of protection and product specifications. It also displays key dates and links for applications and publications before the geographical indications are registered.

You can also find information about the traditional terms for wine and the traditional specialities guaranteed in the section Related links below.

2. Giview \(EUIPO\)

Giview provides a single entry point for data on GIs registered in the EU. It also contains detailed information on non-EU GIs protected at EU level through bilateral and multilateral agreements, and on EU GIs protected in non-EU countries.

2.1. Search engine functions

Allows searches by: Country, File number of GI, Product type (Wine, Food, Spirit drink, Other) Priority date, GI type (PDO, PGI, GI), Status (Applied, Published, Registered, Protected under agreement), Basis of protection (EU registers, Agreements)

2.2. Analytics functions:

The database provides an interactive map of GIs.

2.3. Additional functions:

GIVIEW is a comprehensive database that provides a range of additional functions to help users search, retrieve, download data, analyse data and view GIs on a world map.

But it does not provide information on litigation related to geographical indications (GIs). Its primary function is to serve as a search engine and database for GIs from around the world
